

I listen to KLOVE radio and appreciate its message and the fact it does not have commercials. After a while what you listen to gets stuck in your head, whether its positive or negative and if LPFM station displaces KLOVE then I will not a positive message stuck in head but perhaps a negative one. The same thing goes for kids. It is cute when little kids can sing along but it is absurd and inappropriate for them to be cussing or saying things little kids should be saying. Please do not displace KLOVE. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Kelli Williamson
